THE TECHNOLOGY

The WAND is powered by sonic vibrations and rolled all over the face to lift and firm the muscles while dispensing the powerful serum from the rollerball head onto the skin to offer instant hydration.

This clever technology offers a double pronged effect; the sonic waves send messages to the nerve ending telling the muscles to contract which creates an exercise program to stimulate the facial muscles to lift and firm. Simultaneously, the Pharma Grade Hyaluronic Serum projected from the roller ball acts like a magnet to the skin, providing an instant burst of hydration and moisture-binding power. Low molecular weight Hyaluronic Serum literally infuses moisture while plumping the appearance of lines and wrinkles from the inside out, allowing a fresher, dewier skin to emerge.

The WANDS have two pre-set levels, pressing once for level one this is tailored for around the eyes and pressing a second time for level two for even more firming of the face.

Our WAND is the perfect product for all skin types as you don't need to wait until the skin starts to lose laxity, you can use the WAND to create a perfect exercise programme to keep your skin looking it's best at any age.
